RE: Navistar Announces New Supplier Quality Director

Navistar has named Robert Portney, Director, Integrated Supplier Quality, effective immediately. Robert has held roles of increasing responsibility and comes with a wealth of experience in both quality and engineering organizations. In his new role, Robert will report to Jim Jesionowski, Vice President of Quality.

Most recently, Robert served as Chief Program Engineer for the International CV series program. He successfully launched the CV series, which reestablishes Navistar's place in the Class 4/5 market. Prior to that, Robert was Director of Engineering at REV Group and Director of Engineering and Quality at Finn Corporation. Robert has a bachelor's degree from the University of Alabama in Mechanical Engineering and is a certified Six Sigma champion.

Robert's background will be an asset to the company as we continue to focus on improving quality in our supply base.
